

PERSONNELMeetings, Conferences and ConventionsA. Faculty Meetings

Attendance at faculty meetings and other meetings called by the administrative staff is a duty and shall be regarded as a part of the working day of those employees asked to attend. Attendance at these meetings shall be mandatory unless the employee is specifically excused by the person calling the meeting.

B. Conferences and Conventions

The Stafford County School Board encourages the attendance of employees at regional, state and national conventions for the purposes of exchanging ideas with their peers and of searching out concepts and practices that may serve to improve the school division.

The superintendent may approve the attendance at conferences and conventions if the employee is a member of the professional organization sponsoring the meeting, if funds are available and if the superintendent is assured that attendance will result in benefits to the educational program. The superintendent may approve the attendance of employees at other meetings that are of current interest to the staff of the school division.
